WARD 9 NEWS

The Drumbeat of the Community

Glenville Library Groundbreaking

Cleveland Public Library is transforming the Glenville Branch into a vibrant, fully renovated community library. The much needed upgrade will make the Glenville Branch a library of the future that respects the history of the building and our neighborhood.

The $8.1 million Glenville Branch renovation will last 18 months. The projected reopening is summer 2025. During construction, Councilman Conwell urges residents to patronize the following CPL branches in or near Ward 9:

- Dr. Martin Luther King Jr Library: 1962 Stokes Blvd
- Hough Library: 6530 Lexington Ave
- Collinwood Library: 856 E. 152nd St
- Langston Hughes Library: 10200 Superior Ave

CPL UPDATE: Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Campus

Construction is continuing on the new MLK Library and the Library Lofts apartments project. The new building is on schedule to be open in time for Martin Luther King Day, January, 2025. In the meantime, Cleveland Public Library's current MLK Branch located at 1962 Stokes Blvd. remains open to patrons from 10 am - 6 pm, Monday-Saturday.

Moulton/Scoutway Park Renovation Coming Soon

Councilman Kevin Conwell has advocated for renovations and improvements for the Moulton/Scoutway Park that sits behind the Mary M. Bethune Elementary School. Improvements, estimated at $625,000, include new playground equipment on a cushioned surface.

Wade Early Learning Center Accepting New Students

Wade Early Learning Center, located at 9111 Yale Avenue, is now accepting new students. Nestled in a park-like setting, Wade has two large playgrounds for outdoor time and four classrooms (one infant, one toddler, and two preschool rooms). They also offer a Smart Start Home Visiting program that provides in-home early learning, family support, and prenatal services to families who can't travel to their centers.

The Centers' Head Start Early Learning Centers provide nurturing and diverse classrooms for children of all abilities, from six weeks to 5 years of age. Children learn while having fun in a safe environment through a play-based curriculum. The team of highly qualified teaching staff undergoes continual development and training. Free nutritious meals (breakfast, lunch, and snacks), formula, wipes, and diapers are included with enrollment.

The team recognizes parents as their children's primary educators and provides numerous opportunities for families to play an active role in supporting their children's learning both in the classroom and at home. Engagement activities include our Male Advisory Council, school readiness activities such as kindergarten school visits and school choice fairs, parent committees, policy council, event planning, and more.

The Centers' team meets with each family individually to match them with the appropriate programs and scholarships based on each family's circumstances to ensure services are as affordable as possible. Payment options for private pay, voucher-qualified, and Early/Head Start-eligible families are available for full-day service.

Artists Needed, Apply Now

As a champion of the arts, Councilman Kevin Conwell is excited about the plan to distribute close to $3 million in funding to artists which was approved by all of Council at a recent meeting. Councilman Conwell sponsored the legislation.

The Transformative Arts Fund is for “Cleveland-centric” arts projects. Lead artists with a verifiable Cleveland address will have to submit a budget and select an institutional partner to administer the grants of up to $500,000 each. Artists will also need to submit Center for Community Solutions data on the neighborhood or ward where the project will take place.

Applications will be accepted through March 30, with three virtual and three in-person orientation sessions during that time. Finalists will be notified in late April, and projects are slated to begin in June. Projects can be in any medium, and about any topic.

But special consideration will be given to projects that “amplify and address” the following issues: vacant land reuse; environment; food insecurity; violence prevention; matters of diversity, equity and inclusion; safe spaces; and social determinants of health, such as black maternal health, smoking cessation or physical and mental health

Councilman Conwell had advocated for the funding award. It comes from $3 million in American Rescue Plan Act funds set aside in October 2022. Assembly for the Arts takes 3% from that pool to handle the application process.

Arts Opportunities

Councilman Kevin Conwell, an artist and musician, wants Cleveland children and families to take advantage of programs that will be enriching and expose youth to new opportunities through the arts.

Inspiration Through Music is a free music program that allows 3rd - 12th grade Cleveland residents & CMSD students to receive beginner to intermediate instrument instruction. Participants must live in Cleveland or attend a school within the Cleveland Metropolitan School District.

ArtWorks is an Arts Education and Workforce Development program for high school students in 10th, 11th, & 12th grade. Students are enrolled as paid apprentices and are mentored by a Master Teaching Artist in an art form while going through Workforce Development and developing universal skills for post-high school endeavors.

ArtWorks is offered 3 sessions each school year (Fall, Spring, and Summer). This is an excellent opportunity for students to learn a new art form or strengthen their skills in an art form. You must apply to participate in this program during registration periods.

To find out more, sign up on the mailing list to get information about programs visit arts-inspiredlearning.org or call 216-561-5005. You can also contact Darelle Hill, Community Programs Manager at 440-701-6547 darelle@arts-inspiredlearning.org.
